A FREE telephone
information service
for NSW families

CHILD & FAMILY information LINE

Our Child and Family service provides free information and/or referral to assist families in NSW to make informed decisions about child and family related issues.

Our trained staff can provide comprehensive details about children's services and resources for families.

The Child & Family Information Line operates Monday to Friday between 9am and 5pm.

A telephone interpreter service is available for families requiring this assistance.
